Washington Scourged By Heavy Wind Storm

Washington, July 30.—Like a giant flail, a cyclonic storm of wind, rain and hail whipped back and forth across the nation's capital today, leaving death and ruin in its wake.

Three dead, many missing, scores injured and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of property ruined were the toll recorded in the hurried canvass made when the city aroused itself from half an hour of helplessness in the grasp of the elements.

AMBASSADOR WILSON, CHIEF FIGURE IN PRESENT MEXICAN CRISIS, AS HE LOOKS AT DESK IN WASHINGTON

This is the latest picture of Henry Lane Wilson, the American Ambassador to Mexico, whose return from Mexico City to Washington and report on conditions there, led to conferences between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Ambassador Wilson. Wilson's stand in favor of the Huerta regime and his criticism of the Madero administration might lead to his retirement. Mr. Wilson is the central figure in the present Mexican crisis.

Charter Wins in Cincy Bigelow Ticket Defeated

Cincinnati yesterday voted by the meager majority of 90 to have a new charter. It will be made by a commission of 15, known as the Citizens' Charter ticket.

The vote for charter was 19,666; against 19,576. The Bigelow civic and labor forces did not elect a man, and the average majority against their candidates is more than 5,000.

By a majority of about 5,000 the large Council will be retained, and a bond issue of $100,000 to complete the new City Hospital was overwhelmingly approved.

THE CONFERENCE YESTERDAY MAY CHANGE THE PROGRAM

WILSON MAKES AN IMPRESSION

Appears Before Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

DISCUSSES MEXICAN AFFAIRS

Members of Committee Express the Opinion That Serious Consideration Should Be Given to the Ambassador's Recommendation For a Guarded Recognition of the Huerta Government.

Washington, July 31.—The conference between Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador to Mexico, and members of the senate committee on foreign relations, resulted in stronger support for the ambassador's plan to recognize the Huerta government in Mexico than he has received at any time since arriving in Washington. After three hours' questioning of the ambassador, many members of the senate committee expressed the opinion that serious consideration should be given to his recommendations for a guarded and restricted recognition of Huerta, designed to bolster up the present government until elections can be held Oct. 26.

The determination of the government's Mexican policy does not rest with the senate, however, and there was nothing in the situation to indicate that President Wilson or Secretary Bryan had wavered in their determination not to recognize the Huerta government at present.

The conference was distinctly a presentation of "his side of the case" by the ambassador to Mexico. As a result of the generally favorable impression he created, and the close scrutiny and tentative approval given his report by many members of the committee, it is believed the administration will be urged to furnish the senate committee at once with its private information gathered by William Bayard Hale, Reginald H. Del Valle and by consular agents at various points.

Ambassador Wilson told the senate committee that the Huerta government dominated affairs throughout the republic, and had driven the constitutionalists out of many of their strongholds, including the states of Coahuila and Nuevo Leon. The president, it is understood, has information considered thoroughly reliable by himself and Secretary Bryan, which show the constitutionalist strength to be greatly in excess of the estimates of Ambassador Wilson and indicates that the Huerta government dominates the situation only in a small part of the republic.

Should the Huerta government fall, in the opinion of Ambassador Wilson, conditions in the republic will be worse than at present, and American lives and property will be in greater danger.

Killed in Runaway.
Circleville, O., July 31.—Jacob L. Hoover, 61, retired farmer of Ashville, father of Ira Hoover, electrical engineer at the Girls' Industrial school, Delaware county, was killed in a runaway accident.

THE ANGRY ELEMENTS WORK RUIN

WASHINGTON SWEEPED BY TERRIFIC STORM

Three Killed and Dozen Hurt, and Public Parks Ruined.

Washington, July 31.—An awe-inspiring rain and windstorm, which resulted in the death of three persons and wrought more damage to the beautiful parks and public buildings of the capital than has been done by nature in a decade, raged over Washington for an hour. The White House grounds were literally devastated. The damage to the city is estimated at $1,000,000, but marring of the Capitol's beautiful park is something that can not be expressed in dollars.

The wind attained a velocity of 66 miles an hour, according to the weather bureau, and the rainfall for the hour was a fraction more than two inches. For the time the city was in deep twilight. Hallstones rattled on the skylights of the senate chamber, forcing a recess.

Two men were killed in the collapse of a three-story building in the northwestern part of the city. They were Walter E. Hilton, a real estate man, and Thomas Fealy, an employee. A dozen other persons were injured. The injuries of Miss Catherine Breen, a stenographer, and Katherine McMahon, a bookkeeper, are serious and may prove fatal.

An unidentified man was killed by a mass of falling lumber at the American league baseball park.

GRADE CROSSING AGAIN

STRUCK AT CROSSING

Actress Killed Instantly and Her Mother Fatally Injured.

Ossining, N. Y., July 31.—Miss Gertrude M. Barker, 38, an actress, whose home was at Stapleton, Staten Island, was instantly killed at a crossing here by the Lake Shore Limited. Her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Barker, 65, a widow, same address, received fatal injuries and died on reaching the Ossining hospital.

Mrs. Barker had been ill for some time and the two ladies were boarding at Mrs. L. Wall's farm in New-castle. They were riding in a rig owned by Mrs. Walls and driven by Patrick Scully. The flagman, Owen Hernon, and other witnesses say Scully would not stop when warned.

Dayton, O., July 31.—Lawrence B. Bickham, 35, a tinner, fell 75 feet on a swinging scaffold at the new Y. W. C. A. building and was killed. He landed on his head.

STAMFORD WRECK IS DUPLICATED

THROUGH EXPRESS HITS PULLMAN TRAIN

Wreck on Pennsylvania, in Which One Is Killed and 100 Hurt.

Tyrone, Pa., July 31.—A bad wreck occurred on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad when No. 13, a through train, crashed into No. 15, a train composed of Pullman and day coaches. No. 15 was just pulling away from the station when the fast mail and passenger train made the fearful crash, in which Engineer George Funk of Altoona was instantly killed and his fireman, William Harton, seriously injured, along with 145 others. All of the injured, except 11, were able to proceed.

Westbound passenger train No. 15, known as "the Pittsburgh express," which arrived at Tyrone four minutes late, had called in its flagman and had already started to move away from the station when No. 13, a fast express of eight cars, also bound for Pittsburgh, running on time and going about 30 miles an hour, came around the curve less than 12 lengths east of the station and plunged into the Pullman car on the rear of No. 15. The impact threw the locomotive of No. 13 off the track and against the railroad fence, three cars following.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Diggs and Caminetti in Court and Trial Assigned For Tuesday.

San Francisco, July 31.—Maury Diggs and Drew Caminetti, who gained notoriety because of the attempt to postpone their trials for alleged violation of the Mann white slave act, pleaded not guilty before United States District Judge Van Fleet to charges of conspiracy to violate the Mann act and of violating the act by transporting Marcia Warrington and Lola Norris from Sacramento to Reno, Nev. The court assigned the trial for next Tuesday.

MOTORCYCLE TANK LETS GO

Two Persons Killed, Six Fatally and Others Seriously Injured.

Cincinnati, O., July 31.—Two persons were killed, six fatally burned and 11 others seriously injured as the result of a motorcycle accident at the Lagoon motordrome, across the river from this city.

Odin Johnson of Salt Lake City, captain of the Cincinnati team which was contesting at the motordrome, for some reason that will probably remain unknown, drove his cycle to the extreme top of the circular track, crashed into an electric light pole, broke it off, and the contact of the live wire with the machine exploded the gasoline tank, throwing the burning fluid over a score of spectators.

Johnson paid the penalty with his life; William Davis, a boy, was also killed. Six others, who can not live, are at the Kentucky hospitals.

The fatally burned: Orville Hart, Newport, Ky.; William Patterson, Cincinnati; Herman Davis, Cincinnati; Mrs. William McMichael, Cincinnati; Mrs. Bruckman, Cincinnati; an unidentified boy.

UNDERWOOD TARIFF BILL ONCE MORE

CLASHES MARK TARIFF DEBATE

Republicans Accused of Attempting to Bring on Panic.

Statement Rouses Republican Senators. Several of Whom Declare They Actually Fear the Results Which They Hope Will Not Come—Differences of Opinion Expressed as to Present Industrial Conditions.

Washington, July 31.—Democrats and Republicans of the senate clashed again in debate on the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill when Senator Stone charged that the Republicans were deliberately attempting to bring on a panic in their speeches attacking the pending measure.

Senator Gallinger asserted he is no calamity howler, but that he actually feared the results which he hoped would not come. If the disaster he feared did not come, the senator said, the glory would go to the Democrats. Senator Penrose declared that not only did he fear the proposed bill would bring on disastrous consequences, but that industrial depression already was upon the country. He cited instances of steel mills in Pennsylvania that already had closed down.

While Republican and Democratic leaders were engaged in hot discussion, Senator Kenyon averred that in his talks he had always said he did not believe the pending bill would result in disaster and that the people of his state did not believe so either.

"Oh, I was not referring to the progressive Republicans," said Senator Stone. "I meant that the majority of the minority were attempting to arouse the people."

Senator Martine read from a newspaper an article headed "steel earnings up," and referred to the tariff bill as "the dawn of hope for the people."

"It isn't the dawn of hope for the 1,000 men already thrown out of employment in Lebanon, Pa.," retorted Senator Penrose.

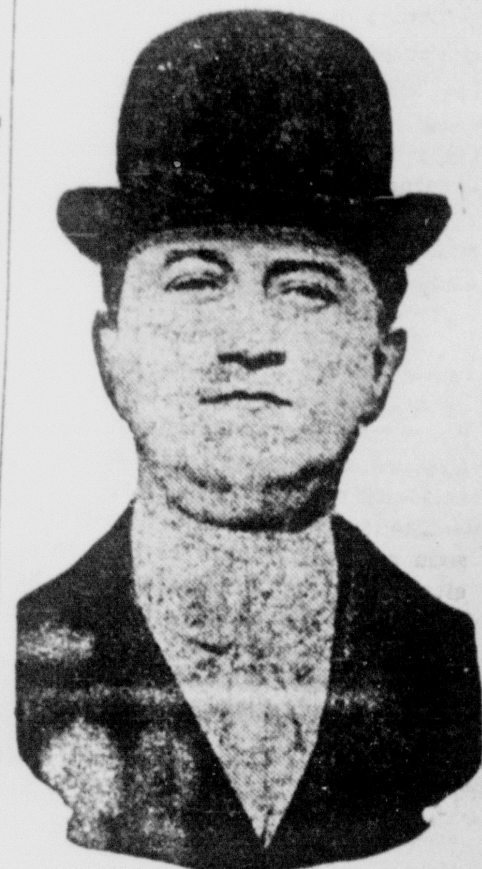

Charging that Democratic leaders have broken their tariff promises made to the working people of New England before the last national election, Senator George F. McLean of Connecticut assailed the Underwood-Simmons bill. Senator McLean quoted from speeches made by Majority Leader Underwood, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, Representative Reilly and Governor S. N. Baldwin, assuring the mill workers that the Democratic tariff would look after the differences in cost of production here and abroad.

Senator Clark of Wyoming challenged Mr. Stone's statement and asserted that if any distrust were being engendered it was through statements by President Wilson, Secretary Redfield and Secretary McAdoo.

Senator Stone replied with a charge of a conspiracy among Republican senators to create public distrust.

PROSTRATIONS ARE NUMEROUS

DEATH ACCOMPANIES HEAT WAVE IN OHIO

Record Temperatures Prevail at Several Points.

Columbus, O., July 31.—Many deaths and prostrations accompany the heat wave in Ohio. Record temperatures for the year were established in many places. Five babies died and six adults were prostrated in Cleveland. The record temperature for the year was broken in Cincinnati, when mercury reached 99 degrees. Columbus reports one death and several prostrations.

The deaths of two babies in Akron brought the heat toll in that city up to seven since Saturday evening. A number of persons, including Ira A. Priest, former president of Buchtel college, were prostrated. Mr. Priest's condition is serious.

Robert Lawkson, 84, and Willard Twicks, 77, were overcome by heat and died at Zanesville.

While Clyde Houston, a farmer, living near Akron, was threshing, lightning struck and killed him.

Thirteen head of valuable cattle belonging to D. L. Heffner, near Circleville, were killed by lightning during a severe storm which swept the greater part of Pickaway county.

CRUSHED IN ENGINE

Upper Sandusky, O., July 31.—Although four men were witnesses, none is able to tell how Walter Wood, 30, storekeeper and woolgrower, was caught and crushed to death in a gas engine at Harpster stock yards.

WELL-TO-DO FARMER HELD FOR STEALING A NEIGHBOR'S HORSE

Virgil Dundon, Son of Respected Farmer Living Near New Holland Faces Serious Charge Because Of Pressing Obligations.

STOLE GEORGE CURRY'S HORSE AND SOLD IT TO HORSE BUYER

Chief McCoy Makes Short Work Of Running Thief to Earth And Nabs Him Just as he is in Act of Boarding Train for Home—Touching Scene When James Dundon, His Father, Greets Wayward Son in Cell.

"Are you Virgil Dundon?" These words greeted the young man bearing the foregoing name as he was about to board the Pennsylvania train for New Holland Wednesday evening.

Dundon turned about to find himself face to face with Chief McCoy, and answered the question in the affirmative.

"Then come with me," replied the Chief and led the young man to the county jail on a charge of stealing a horse from George Curry of near New Holland and selling the animal in this city on stock sale day.

The arrest of Dundon was made soon after Mr. Curry arrived in this city and asked Chief McCoy to help him locate his missing horse, which had been stolen from the pasture early Tuesday morning.

Curry first went to Circleville, placed the affair in the hands of the police at that point, and then went to Chillicothe, where he was informed by a horse buyer that a horse answering the description given was sold in this city Tuesday, and that Cloyd Borden, a horse buyer from Pennsylvania, made the purchase. Curry then hurried to this city and asked for help in locating the horse and thief.

It was soon ascertained that the horse had been purchased by Mr. Borden for the sum of $150 and that he had given Virgil Dundon, aged 24, a check for the amount. A search was then made for Dundon and he was arrested as above mentioned.

When he was placed under arrest the sum of $57 and several pieces of jewelry were found upon him. He later admitted that he had paid $75 which he owed a New Holland dealer for a buggy, and had then used a portion of the remainder to buy jewelry, which is said to have been for his sweetheart.

When placed in the county jail he collapsed and fainted twice during the evening. He did not deny his guilt, but said the debt at New Holland had reached a point when he felt that it must be paid, and that it was for this reason he removed the horse from the field and brought it here and sold it.

The horse was located in a pasture field near town, where it was out with other animals awaiting shipment east. Chief McCoy removed the horse to the Arcade livery barn where it remained until Tuesday morning when Curry again came to this city and got it.

Thursday morning James Dundon, father of the erring young man, came over to see his son. It was a touching meeting between father and son when the elder Dundon was ushered into the county jail. The young man broke down and as great sobs shook him from head to foot he hung about his father's neck. The father held his son in his arms, and he too broke down. It was the first cloud that had ever befallen a member of the Dundon family, it is claimed, as they have always borne an excellent reputation and are well-to-do farmers living south of Holland. The young man is a graduate of the New Holland schools and also attended college in the west.

The elder Dundon gave Mr. Borden a check for the amount paid for the horse and is making every effort to prevent his son suffering severe punishment.

The local authorities will turn

Dundon over to the Pickaway authorities, and the Sheriff from that county is to remove him to Circleville to answer to the charge of horse stealing which is punishable by a several years term in the penitentiary.

SPLENDID CONCERT GIVEN BY BOOSTERS

One of the largest crowds that ever listened to a band concert in this city thronged the streets Wednesday night to greet the appearance of Price's Premier Band of Greenfield, and the large number of Chautauqua boosters who accompanied the band.

In all there were some thirty automobile loads from Greenfield and the concert was up to the usual high standard rendered by the Greenfield boys, although the lack of a band stand prevented the full and clear strains that would otherwise have swept out over the vast audience.

While the band was playing members of the Chautauqua committee went among the crowd and scattered literature describing the Chautauqua which will be held in Douglas Park, beginning August 7th and ending August 17th.

The long string of automobiles arrived in this city at 8:20 and departed at 9:30. Some delay resulted at Good Hope where a short concert was given on the trip up to this city.

Main street and Court street were packed with automobiles, vehicles and pedestrians for nearly a square in each direction.

When the boosters arrived here they were covered with dust, the long train of machines leaving a cloud of dust in its wake.

GOVERNOR RETURNS TAKING SUPPER HERE

Governor James M. Cox and James A. Devine returned from West Union Chautauqua Wednesday evening, arriving in this city about 7:30 and leaving at 8:15 for Columbus.

They stopped at the Cherry Hotel for supper and after a few moments rest departed for the capital city. It was one of the longest automobile trips the Governor has ever taken to appear for a speech, but he made the 298 mile trip without apparent fatigue, notwithstanding it was also one of the hottest days of the summer.

TOURISTS ARE WELL AND ENJOYING TRIP

Mr. Chas. Allen has received a card from Moses Gross, written and mailed at Amsterdam, Holland, on July 21st in which Mr. Gross states that all are well and enjoying the trip.

Mr. Gross mentions a trip to the island of Marken, where the natives still dress as they did several hundred years ago. It required ten days for the card to travel from Amsterdam to this city.

DEER FALLS ON SHOOTER.

Charging Animal, Twice Shot, Dies on Prostrate Hunter.

Pescadero, Cal.—Two gun shots failed to stop the onward course of a buck, and the huntsman, Walter T. Thompson, was injured when he was thrown to the ground and pinned under the carcass of the deer. Thompson was standing near the top of a ridge awaiting the approach of the deer. A buck weighing 160 pounds bounded over the ridge, chased by the dogs, and Thompson fired at fifty yards. The buck did not stop, and at ten yards the hunter fired again. Before he could step aside the buck had rushed into him. Otto Parker pulled the carcass off his companion's body.

MATINEE RACES HELD YESTERDAY

Five Events of More Than Ordinary Interest Delight Those Who Braved The Sun's Fierce Rays—Two-Year-Olds Show Good Burst of Speed and Jay Brandon "Comes Back" In Exciting Race—New Starter at the Wire.

Patrons of the Matinee races Wednesday afternoon were greatly pleased with the sport furnished in the five race events of which were exceptionally good, regardless of the intense heat.

Some genuine surprises occurred in the course of the races. The result in the two-year-old trot was remarkably good, and shows that many of the two-year-olds in the event have speed that will come to the front later.

In the Class B. pace Mrs. Perrill was injured, while Dorothy D. took an unceremonious tumble while scoring. Foxy McKinney was drawn in the fourth heat of Class B trot, the result of an injury.

In Class A trot Jay Brandon, at 15, equaled his best record established at six years old.

F. D. Woodland made his debut as a starter, and showed that he was on to the game by "delivering the goods" Imperial Band furnished music during the afternoon.

August 13th is the date of the next matinee and still better events will be planned for that day.

PETER BILLIKIN WINS $5,000 STAKE

Peter Billikin, the handsome Kentucky horse owned by Mr. W. A. Bacon of this city, won first in the $5,000 stake race over the half mile track at Livingston, Maine, Wednesday, the best time being 2:13 1/4.

Since Mr. Bacon left this city with Peter Billikin some four weeks ago, he has won first money in a number of big races, including first at Cleveland and two firsts at Montreal, Canada.

Mr. Bacon has been offered $7,500 for the animal, but has refused to sell him for less than $15,000, and is not particular about parting with him at that figure.

PHILLIPS-O'FEARLL

A quiet wedding, coming in the nature of a pleasant surprise to their many friends, occurred at the M. E. Parsonage at eight o'clock Wednesday night, when Rev. F. E. Ross performed the ceremony uniting Mr. C. D. Phillips and Miss Mary O'Fearll in marriage.

The young couple were accompanied by Mr. James Summers and Miss Daisy Kent.

Mr. Phillips is a popular young barber, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Phillips, and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Laura O'Fearll. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will continue to reside in this city.

CONSCIENCE HURT; WOOD SOUGHT CELL

Admitted Taking $5,175 From Express Company In St. Louis.

Philadelphia. — Stolen money—$5,175—from the funds of the American Express company lay in the pockets of Alexander S. Woods, East St. Louis agent for the company, as he wandered through the streets of this city at 3 o'clock in the morning fighting his conscience. It was just that hour when Woods stood beneath the arc light at Fifteenth and Market streets watching Sergeant Daly and two patrolmen wrestling with a drunkard.

He fumbled the greenbacks in his pockets, crossed the street and accosted the sergeant as the patrol wagon clanged at the curb.

"Sergeant, would you mind sending me along with him?" Woods asked, indicating the staggering man.

"Why?"

"Because I'm a thief."

"How's that?"

"I'm wanted by the American Express company in East St. Louis for stealing $5,175. I've stood it as long as I can. Here's the stuff." Woods pulled a handful of money from his pockets and handed it to Sergeant Daly. "I want you to send me back to St. Louis. I want to face the music," he explained. "I want my two little girls to know that even if I have made a big mistake I have done all I could to make it good."

Sergeant Daly motioned toward the patrol wagon.

"Jump in," he said.

Woods obeyed, and a few minutes later he was in a cell.

ADOPTS 300 CHILDREN.

Charles Page Equips Eighty Acre Tract as Free Playground.

Tulsa, Okla. — Every poor child in Tulsa is singing the praises of Charles Page, a local millionaire, through whose generosity they are privileged to enjoy a daily outing during the hot months of summer and who has adopted 300 children and hopes to increase the number to 1,000.

Likewise many a tired, overworked mother is happy in this heated season, for she knows her little ones will have the fresh air and recreation they need to keep them healthy and contented and that she will be able to have her hours of rest every day.

Near the village of Sand Springs, a suburb of Tulsa, which was recently established by Mr. Page, he owns a tract of 8,000 acres. He has converted eighty acres of forest into one of the most complete parks in the United States. In the equipment of the park particular attention has been paid to the playground for the children.

BLIND 50 YEARS, NOW SEES.

Stricken When Sixteen, Woman Regains Sight—Sees Her Children.

Hillsdale, Mich.—One of the humblest homes here was made the happiest in the whole country when Mrs. Mary J. Welsh, who has been blind for fifty years, recovered her sight. When she was a girl of sixteen her eyes failed until she became entirely blind. In that condition she married and is the mother of eight children whom she never saw until the other day.

To make her burden doubly hard her husband became ill and she was forced to take in washing to support the family.

Several operations were tried and were unsuccessful. The sons, now grown up, took the mother to Chicago, where she was taken to a hospital for treatment. Surgeons examined her and found she was suffering from a double cataract.

TROUT EATS FROM HAND.

Sunbeam, Pet of the Hatchery, is Fond of Being Stroked.

Estes Park, Colo.—"Sunbeam," the pet speckled trout in the fish hatchery at Estes Park, has just recovered from an indisposition caused by stomach trouble or rheumatism and is again able to take his place as the only pet trout in captivity.

The fish, now a three-year-old and about eleven inches long, is as good an example of gentle and loving trout-hood as it is possible to find. Fed from the hand from the time he was hatched, he feels insulted now unless his food is given to him in that way.

He is very fond of being stroked and petted and will swim around and rub himself against a person's hand whenever a chance is given him.

WOMAN A HOUSE WRECKER.

Works Beside Husband—Says Strength is the Test of Equality.

Merrimac, Mass.—Mrs. Willard W. Chase, mother of five children, is now a full fledged housewrecker, having been taken into partnership by her husband. She goes out to work with her husband every day and performs the labor of tearing down houses with the vigor of an average man.

"It's a grand thing for these women to be interested in educational things and take up civic problems," said Mrs. Chase. "But if women really want to get anywhere it's high time they began to show that they are capable of doing the same sort of physical work that the men do."

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS IN CUMBERLAND MOUNTAINS

One of the best examples of good road building in the southern states has recently been put on exhibition at Chattanooga. This road climbs Signal Mountain, a spur of the Cumberland, six miles north of the city, and has its terminus at Signal Mountain Inn, a summer resort recently opened to the public by Mr. C. E. James and associates, near Signal Point, an eminence used as 1863. The Tennessee river washes the base of Signal Mountain practically the entire length of the roadway, at an average distance below the road of 1,000 feet. The scenery from this highway is pronounced by all who see it as among the best on the American continent. The roadbed in many places was blasted out of a towering cliff by heavy charges of dynamite, the roadbed hugging the mountain until it reaches an altitude of 2,000 feet above sea level and 1,500 feet above the level of the valley. It is constructed on modern lines, is of an average of forty feet in width, and the heaviest grade is but seven per cent. Heavy touring cars climb the mountain over this road at a speed of 25 miles an hour. A trolley line is also being constructed by the same company from the city to the summit of Signal Mountain and will be in operation by the date of the September Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

In Social Circles

The hospitable Haines' home on the creek road, the scene of a number of delightful affairs during the past year, was again enfeete Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ivah Haines entertained at an exceptionally pretty party, a Kensington.

The large rooms and immense verandas were alike at the disposal of the guests and fragrant with a profusion of summer flowers.

A guessing contest was enjoyed, Miss Louise Weaver winning the prize, a box of bonbons.

A delicious summer collation was served and fruit punch on tapis all afternoon.

A unique feature of the affair, due entirely to the clever devising of the hostess' mother, Mrs. Frank E. Haines, created hilarious fun that put the affair in a class by itself.

Entirely unknown to anyone, Mrs. Haines had invited a number of young men to come to the Kensington. They not only came, but they came dressed as girls and bringing their Kensington bags.

Their "get ups" and "make ups" were exuberating and only equalled by their equally side-splitting and unusual fancy work. Their costumes were entirely up to date, split skirts, and all the new wrinkles and the guests were indebted to Mrs. Haines for the carrying out of such an ingenious idea.

Forty girls attended. Assisting were Miss Bernice Holdren, of Bloomingburg, Misses Jean Howat, Alice Loofborrow and Willa Briggs. The assistants, with Messrs. Winchell Craig, Harold Craig, Charles Willis, Kenneth Kyle, Bruce King and James King, were entertained later in the evening by Mr. and Mrs. Haines with a tried chicken supper.

Miss Fannie Persinger charmingly entertained four tables of "Bridge" Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. W. A. Tysor, who leaves for the Tysor place in Tennessee today for an extended stay.

A number of the guests were Mrs. Tysor's intimate friends.

Mrs. Roy Brown won a beautiful bouquet of Ward roses in the games and a most tempting collation was served.

Miss Lorraine Larama, of Flint, Mich., was an out of town guest.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. R. W. Hutson arrived from Charleston, S. C. Wednesday night to visit her parents, Capt. and Mrs. George C. Jenkins. She was accompanied by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. G. Hutson, a rice planter, who accompanies Mr. Fred West next week to Canada and expects to go on to Yellow Stone Park.

BOYNTON PARK, ON CAMERON HILL, CHATTANOOGA

Some years ago the city of Chattanooga purchased from private owners the entire summit of Cameron Hill, a historic eminence on the western border of the city, and converted it into a public park, naming it in honor of the late Gen. Henry Van Ness Boynton, of Ohio, who was chairman of the Chickamauga-Chattanooga National Park Commission from its organization until his death. The view from Cameron Hill is one of the best to be had of the surrounding mountainous country. A reunion of some of the survivors of the battle of Chattanooga is being arranged for Boynton Park during the September encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. The Confederates returned the fire of Gen. Wilder from this hill when he shelled the city, August 21, 1863.

Mrs. Lloyd Price and daughter, Jessie, returned Wednesday from Dayton, where they visited relatives.

Miss Florence Michael returned Wednesday from Columbus, where she has been visiting friends.

NEEDN'T WEAR WHITE SUITS.

Spotless Linen Impedes Officers' Work in Navy Yards, Daniels Hears.

Washington, Democratic simplicity has taken another long stride forward Navy officers in natty white uniforms will no longer be seen painfully and nervously performing their duties in machine shops and storehouses in navy yards, where every move may threaten to soil their spotlessness.

In the course of a recent conversation with Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, when the latter was in Washington, Secretary Daniels asked if it was not irksome for the army officers on the Isthmus to wear white uniforms all the time.

"It surely is," replied Colonel Goethals, "and when a man is all the time afraid he will get his clothes dirty he is no good whatever for any kind of work."

Acting on this philosophical suggestion, Secretary Daniels when inspecting navy yards has asked the officers on duty if they enjoyed being in their uniforms while at work in the shops and storehouses. The unvarying answer has been that they would be very glad to get rid of them. The secretary then inquired what sort of clothes they would like to wear while at work, and every time the answer has been overalls.

Officers like to show workmen how to do things. But to take hold of a machine lathe or a drill press and run it when one is dressed in immaculate white linen is expensive.

So Secretary Daniels issued an order to commandants of navy yards to permit officers on duty under them to wear civilian clothes while on duty.

When Buttons Were Unknown. How did the world manage for centuries without buttons? In early ages they were unknown. The voluminous garments of oriental races are still attached to their wearers by means of straps, as were those of the Greeks and Romans. The Normans were responsible for the invention. The etymology of the word points to the derivation of the idea. Bout, an end or extremity, and bouter, to push, show that the button was originally a push piece, like the buttons of our modern electric bells. The Normans probably conceived the idea from the rough knots of their furniture, on which most likely they hung their garments. Once introduced, buttons came rapidly into common use.

Kipling's Response. The Cantab, the Cambridge University weekly, once asked Rudyard Kipling to contribute to its columns. In response came the following reply: There once was a writer who wrote, "Dear Sir—In reply to your note of yesterday's date, I am sorry to state it's no good at the prices you quote."

The Presbyterian picnic passed off successfully at Willis park Wednesday. Considering the great heat there was a large crowd and everybody, old and young, had a jolly time.

A splendid picnic dinner was served and lemonade all through the day. Sports were varied and full of zest and the cool shade refreshing from the summer heat.

The picnic was exceptionally well managed and all not able to walk taken in autos and carriages.

CHATTANOOGA'S CLIFF DWELLERS

One of the attractive views at Chattanooga is supplied by handsome residences on Bluff View, a fashionable settlement on the bluffs of the Tennessee river. Residents of this settlement are known locally as the "Cliff Dwellers." The drop from the residences here shown to the stream below is about 300 feet, the bluff being practically perpendicular. Many of the survivors of the Chattanooga campaign of the Civil War will recognize this point, and doubtless visit it during the 47th national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in September.

SABINA BOOTLEGGER DRAWS LIBERAL FINE

Sabina's latest bootlegging case is mentioned by the Sabina Tribune as follows:

"George W. Dun was arraigned before Mayor W. H. Dakin last week on the charge of keeping a place where intoxicating liquors are handled. Marshal Williams had found Mr. Dun with liquor in the barn at the rear of the Dun property on Howard street. The case was warmly contested with Mayor White, of Barnesville, for the prosecution and W. B. Rogers, of Washington C. H., for the defense. Mr. Dun's defense was that this barn was his only place of residence and this was his private supply to which he was entitled under the law. There were several witnesses. Mayor Dakin found him guilty and assessed a fine of $200 and costs. It is said the case will be appealed on error."

Getting a Line on Ourselves

The work on one of the proposed street paving improvements in Washington has been halted, whether temporarily or permanently, depends upon the final decree of the courts.

Some of the property owners residing along the line of Washington avenue do not agree with the view the city council, expressed by the passage of an ordinance declaring it necessary to improve the street by paving the roadway with brick.

It is not proper that the merits of either one of the contending sides to that legislation be discussed by the press.

The question of whether it is, or is not, necessary to pave the roadway of Washington avenue with brick is now one for the court to determine in the injunction case launched by some of the property owners along the line of the street.

Just what the court, in disposing of the case, will define as the beginning and the end of the jurisdiction of the city council under the comparatively recent legislative enactment authorizing council to go ahead and upon declaration by ordinance, of a necessity to pave a street, no one can know until the final grist is turned out.

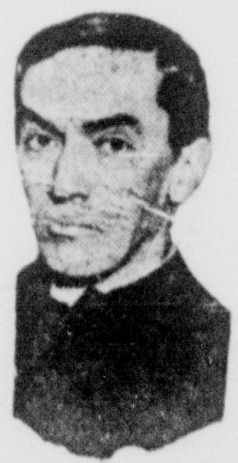

Ever since that law was passed, it has been a mooted question among city officials and among members of the bar whether council action was conclusive or whether the existence of a necessity was a question of fact which could be reviewed by the courts, and the facts warranting, in the opinion of the courts, a finding contrary to that expressed by council, handed down by the courts.

There is still another angle presented in the legislation and that is, even granting that council is vested with a power conclusive and final, to declare the necessity, is that power—that discretion vested in council subject to be decreed void on a showing that the discretion has been abused in any particular case.

The attorneys announce that no exactly parallel case is to be found in the report of adjudicated cases.

It is well that the scope of the authority of council should be judicially and finally determined as it bids fair to be in this litigation and that the action has been launched early in what promises to be a city wide movement to pave the streets.

The law once settled, the rights and duties of both property owners and council will be settled for all time and no fruitless attempts to proceed with improvements claimed to be necessary need be made.

Multi-millionaires
at Bottom of Trust
ProblemBy the Rev.
HERBERT H.
HENSON,
Canon of Westminster
Abbey

THE QUESTION OF THE MULTIMILLIONAIRE, WHICH IS REALLY AT BOTTOM THE TRUST PROBLEM, IS NOT LIMITED TO AMERICA. IT IS ALREADY THROWING ITSELF ACROSS THE HORIZON OF ENGLISH POLITICS. IT IS NOT A QUESTION MERELY OF MAINLY OF INDIVIDUALS, OF INDIVIDUAL MERIT OR DEMERIT. MR. CARNEGIE OR MR. ROCKEFELLER OR ANY OTHER MULTIMILLIONAIRE MAY BE THE BEST OF MEN; IT IS THE FACT THAT THEY WIELD BY TITLE OF THEIR WEALTH AN INFLUENCE WHICH NO SELF RESPECTING COMMUNITY CAN TOLERATE IN ANY INDIVIDUAL WHICH CREATES THE PROBLEM AND ENDOWS IT WITH GRAVITY.

We feel in England that unless the modern state can solve the problem of the multimillionaire by effectively RESTRAINING SO GREAT AN ACCUMULATION OF WEALTH IN THE HANDS OF INDIVIDUALS and of groups it will be impossible to maintain the existing industrial order based upon competition.

It seems to me that as nations go America is still a very young country and that Americans can be best interpreted as children. Their extraordinary attractiveness is LIKE THE ATTRACTIVENESS OF CHILDREN. Their ready affection, their eager hospitality, their spontaneous charm, all SUGGEST THE PECULIAR QUALITIES OF GENEROUS CHILDHOOD.

Then, of course, the people have the faults as well as the virtues of children. The American appears to LIVE IN A WORLD OF SUPERLATIVES. He knows no other degree of comparison. If one took in a strictly literal sense all that is said and written about public men in America one would be driven to the conclusion that the whole process of government in the United States is merely the BONE OF CONTENTION BETWEEN MILITANT ANGELS AND INCARNATE FIENDS.

I am becoming more and more impressed by the FUNDAMENTAL UNITY OF IDEAS IN AMERICA AND IN ENGLAND. I feel that the best interests of humanity are concerned in the working harmony of the English speaking communities all over the world, and I believe it to be the duty of every man who values the ideals and standards which are distinctive of Anglo-Saxon culture to exert himself in every possible way to draw closer the ties between America and the British empire.

Poetry For Today

MY SONG.

I have loved flowers that fade,
Within whose magic tents
Rich hues have marriage made
With sweet unmemorial scents.
A honeymoon delight—
A joy of love at sight,
That ages in an hour—
My song be like a flower.

I have loved airs that die
Before their charm is writ
Along a liquid sky
Trembling to welcome it.
Notes that with pulse of fire
Proclaim the spirit's desire,
Then die, and are nowhere;
My song is like an air!

Die, song, die like a breath,
And wither as a bloom;
Fear not a flowery death,
Dread not an airy tomb!
Fly with delight, fly hence!
'Twas thine love's tender sense
To feast; now on thy bier
Beauty shall shed a tear.

—Dr. Robert Bridges.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

At a recent meeting of the State Armory Board the plans for Napoleon's new armory were accepted. It will be the largest armory constructed by the board. As the building of armories has passed the experimental stage, the board assures the city that it will be a modern and complete structure.

It will be three stories high and the G. A. R. will have quarters on the first floor.

Madison Square Garden has been the scene of many of the popular amusements of New York. Barnum's circus used to be housed here, under a roof of canvas, circus-like. Franconi's hippodrome had been located on the site before that. Gilmore followed Barnum with Gilmore's Garden. Madison Square itself was early made famous by the six-day walk of Edward Payson Weston, still well known for his pedestrianism. There was a strong prospect that the structure would be demolished to make room for one of the skyward soaring buildings, but it now appears that the stately tower is to remain a center to gladden New York people many days to come.

The city council of Cleveland is endeavoring to interest local institutions in getting the people to purchase the $4,622,000 4 per cent improvement bonds, which the city has not been able to sell.

If plans under consideration by the bureau of steam engineering mature, the battleship division, consisting of the Oklahoma, Nevada, Pennsylvania and the New No. 39 will not carry any coal, not even for the galley stoves. Oil burning is to be used exclusively.

William De Morgan has another novel finished and its length is such that three volumes will be necessary.

Mr. Taft's first course of professional lectures at Yale are to be brought out in book form by the University Press.

The government is beginning to make the national forests pay for the money that has been spent in conserving them. Last year forest receipts amounted to $2,500,000, which is greater than that of any previous year. The appropriation for forest service work was about $5,500,000.

In addition to the receipts, contracts amounting to $4,000,000 were entered into for the sale of timber to be cut either at once or in later years. 35 per cent of the gross receipts or $800,000 this fiscal year goes to the benefit of the schools and roads in the states in which the forests are situated, according to a national law.

The Suez Canal tariff of $1.20 per ton will be lowered as soon as the Panama Canal is opened. Referring to this, the president of the Suez company maintains that the Panama Canal will rather be a complement to, than a competitor of, the Suez Canal. When the American canal is opened in 1915, the rate will be the same as Suez. The loss of traffic to the Suez Canal owing to the opening of the Panama Canal will be slight, if any. Indeed, it may be said that the opening of the Panama Canal will result in the development of certain distant regions which are practically unknown, and which will later on become, to some extent, a source of supply to the European market. In this way the canals will benefit and help each other.

Detectives Confident That Jobs Were Engineered If Not Accomplished by Some Person Who Has Access to the Homes of the Wealthy—Rumsey, Hanan and Ives Losses Well Into the Hundreds of Thousands.

Narragansett Pier, July 31.—The theory in connection with the Rumsey, Hanan and Ives jewel robberies, in which the local police are placing credence and which is gaining headway with the agency detectives who are working on these cases, is that the thefts were engineered if not actually accomplished, by some person who has access as a guest to the wealthiest homes at Narragansett Pier.

It is considered probable by those holding this view that the master thief who made the arrangements for the thefts selected the property to be taken and provided for its disposition, and had servants in various of the larger homes at the pier who kept him posted regarding the movements of the intended victims and who, possibly, may have assisted in the actual thefts. In each of the three robberies reported as occurring between Friday night and Sunday night, the thieves knew just what they wanted, where it was to be found and the exact time when it could best be obtained.

Mrs. John H. Hanan still declines to make public the value of the articles of jewelry, between 40 and 50 in number, which were taken from the Hanan summer home, Shore Acres, but reports current among the cottagers, based upon a knowledge of the jewels Mrs. Hanan has with her at Narragansett, put the total at close to $150,000.

Meanwhile, the amount of the loss sustained by Mrs. Charles Carey Rumsey, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, in the robbery of her home on Ocean road, has climbed from $75,000 originally given out to well over $100,000. A second string of pearls belonging to Mrs. Rumsey was taken, as well as the larger string, which was given to her by her mother as a wedding gift. The smaller string is valued at $40,000. In addition to the necklaces and other larger jeweled pieces, several less valuable articles were taken.

A private detective made the announcement that at least three suspects are within the net and that arrests will soon be made.

The citizens voted to retain the large council.

THE HISTORIC AND FAMOUS "GENERAL"

Standing in the Union depot shed at Chattanooga, an old locomotive attracts the attention of all passengers and tourists that travel over the lines of the Nashville & Chattanooga railroad. It is being preserved by that road as a memorial to American valor, and is known as "The General." On the morning of April 12, 1862, this engine was captured by a company of Federal soldiers, in disguise, their purpose being to use it in burning the bridges of the Western & Atlantic railway between Big Shanty, Ga., and Chattanooga. The train that the engine was hauling was in command of Capt. W. A. Fuller, of Atlanta, and had stopped at Big Shanty for breakfast. While Capt. Fuller and his crew were at breakfast the engine was uncoupled from the train and headed toward Chattanooga. Pursuit was immediately organized on a hand car, and after a chase of ninety miles the party abandoned the engine and took to the woods. They were captured, however, and carried to Atlanta, where they were tried by court martial. James J. Andrews, leader of the raid, and seven of his companions, were executed; eight were confined in prison but escaped, while six were paroled later. This expedition is known as the "Andrews Raid," and its purpose was to destroy the communications of the Confederate army with its base of supplies. James J. Andrews, the leader of this raid, was a citizen of Flemingsburg, Ky. A reunion of the survivors of the Andrews raid was held in Chattanooga in 1908. The next reunion of these survivors will be held during the 47th national encampment of the G. A. R. at Chattanooga in September.

Flood Survivor Drowns.
Portsmouth, O., July 31.—Saved from death in the Dayton flood last spring, Miss Belle Earhart, 30, a cash register plant stenographer, drowned in the Ohio at Sandy Springs, near here. She was in a bathing party and got beyond her depth.

It weighs 866 pounds, measures 5 feet 6 inches from nose to tip of tail and 3 feet 6 inches across the back. The man who presented the turtle says it was caught in the Pacific ocean off the California coast, and it is one of the deep sea species.

HELD FOR ASSULT ON YOUNG SISTER

Mrs. Mary Jane Tatum Said to Have Kicked and Beat Her.

ACCUSED WOMAN WEALTHY.

Because Independent Girl Refused to Marry Rich New Yorker She Alleged
She Was Attacked and Beaten—Admitted Writing Letters, Later Branding Them False.

Andes, N. Y.—Mrs. Mary Jane Tatum, wife of John C. Tatum, a wealthy cotton broker living at Great Neck, N. Y., was held for the Delaware county grand jury on the charge that she assaulted her twenty-three-year-old sister, Miss Kathryn MacArthur here because Miss MacArthur would not marry Frederick W. Peters, son of a wealthy New York manufacturer.

The bail demanded, $2,000, was immediately furnished, and the case will be heard at the October meeting of the jury. The charge is second degree assault, punishable by five years in prison or a fine of $1,000 or both.

Mrs. Tatum wanted her sister to marry her wealthy friend, Mr. Peters, but the independent young woman was just as resolute in her determination not to marry him, and persuasion on the part of Mrs. Tatum and her husband was of no avail. It is alleged by the prosecution that when Miss MacArthur was a guest in her sister's home and after she had made known her intentions of refusing to marry Peters during a scene in the bedroom of the married sister that Mrs. Tatum pummeled, kicked and otherwise abused her younger sister, finally ordering her from her home. She left immediately and went to the home of friends.

When the preliminary hearing was held here Miss MacArthur came to court. She was accompanied by her father, his second wife and their counsel. It was shown at the hearing that Miss MacArthur had written a letter to the father of young Peters signifying her intention of announcing her engagement shortly. She testified at the trial that she dictated that letter to her brother-in-law, Mr. Tatum, and that the statements it contained were false. During the hearing it was shown that the young woman was a great admirer of Dr. Frederick W. Mason of Great Neck, a married man with several children.

At the close of the hearing Mrs. Tatum arose in anger at Justice of the Peace Charles Johnson's decision against her and exclaimed, "If this case goes beyond the grand jury we'll show up what's at the back of it, and then you'll get the whole truth." Her husband drew her away before she could say anything further. In her testimony Miss MacArthur was about to make some declaration as to Tatum and his wife having a "terrible fight" about "one of her admirers in New York," and as she was going to mention his name Mrs. Tatum's lawyer stopped her.

MOCCASIN BEND, ONE OF THE MOUNTAIN CITY'S BEAUTY SPOTS

Among the many imposing mountain views about Chattanooga none excels the panoramic picture the tourist gets from the point of Lookout Mountain, looking north of the point toward Signal Mountain. Moccasin Bend, famous in war and in peace, is spread out before the gaze 2,200 feet below, with Raccoon mountain and Sand see river as it fights its way through the mountain gorges around Chattanooga. It is a perfect Indian moccasin in shape and takes its name from that circumstance. From the point of the mountain a splendid view is secured of the entire Chattanooga territory, battlefield and mountains. Eight states can be seen from this point ago, and pronounced this view as fine as any in Europe. Henry M. Stanley, the famous African explorer, passed mountain, the Cravens house may be seen, around which the "Battle Above the Clouds" was fought November 24, 1863. Survivors of Chattanooga's battles who attend the 47th G. A. R. national encampment in September, will not be compelled to scale this mountain on foot, as a splendid incline railway and also an electric surface line, take care of all mountain travel. The state of New York has erected a handsome Peace monument in Point Park on Lookout mountain costing $110,000, and other vast improvements have been made there since the Civil War.

THE BICYCLE IS STILL SUPREME

A Few Facts That Upset The Opinions of Some Careless Observers.

During the past few weeks, several newspapers who are out of touch with real conditions, have been giving some publicity to the statement made by James M. McGinley, of the New York Athletic Club, who is an enthusiastic bicyclist. Although he has been an active wheelman for twenty-five years, he is not conversant with facts, for he is accredited with the statement that bicycle travel in America is a lost art.

To those of us who know the facts, this statement is ludicrous. The facts are these: The largest year in the history of what are commonly known as "the balmy days of bicycling" was 1896, when some 700,000 bicycles were made and sold. This record was duplicated in 1916, and the Miami Cycle & Manufacturing Company, of Middletown, Ohio, are authority for the statement that the present year will see between 750,000 and 800,000 bicycles disposed of before the year is closed.

Far from being a lost art, bicycle travel has become an assured and settled fact. Not only are more of them being made and sold today than ever before in the history of this country, but the bicycle itself is being put to better and more consistent use. The days of excessive riding, track races, bicycle meets and century runs have been done away with. All such artificial means of stimulating the industry were dropped twelve or fifteen years ago. The only stimulus that comes to the industry today is the natural and sane demand for the bicycle as a legitimate mode of pleasure and business travel. One who lives in the heart of a great city like New York can be forgiven for not realizing these facts, but those of us who are living in the smaller cities and in the open country, know that the bicycle is established here to stay, and that its sane and sensible use will continue indefinitely.

There are no manufacturing institutions of any kind on so good a footing as those engaged in the manufacturing of bicycles. The men who have money invested in this industry are to be congratulated.

PRINCE'S NAME FINALLY SENTIN

Washington, July 30.—The nomination of Dr. Will S. Prince as Postmaster at Piqua, Ohio, was at last sent to the Senate today by the President, thus ending the first stage of the longest and hardest fought patronage battle in regard to Ohio since the incoming of the Democratic administration.

There still remains the fight to have the nomination of Prince confirmed.

Senator T. E. Burton, Republican, indicated today that while he will not be disposed to block the confirmation of Prince, he probably will hold it up for a while until he can make an investigation of his own. He has heard so many complaints against the doctor that he feels that he cannot consistently allow the name to be ratified without sufficient consideration.

Post and Pomerene, however, both soon will have an interview with the senior Senator and urge him to be as easy as possible, and their mission may be successful.

A graver aspect of the case is that the enemies of Dr. Prince have succeeded in interesting a number of Senators from other states in the case.

THOUSANDS ATTEND NEW HOLLAND PICNIC

Between 5,000 and 6,000 persons attended the annual picnic and field meet at New Holland Thursday, most of them arriving early and eating picnic dinner in genuine fashion under the giant trees in the beautiful grove in which the picnic was held.

Price's Band furnished ideal music throughout the day and will give a concert in the town hall at New Holland tonight.

The greatest feature of the morning entertainment was the sensational ascension of J. O. Gill, of Mt. Sterling, the aeronaut, who ascended some 3,000 feet and made a beautiful parachute drop which caused a thrill of horror to run through the big crowd when the balloon collapsed and fell downward toward the descending parachute, barely missing it and thus averting a tragedy, for if the heavy bag had struck the parachute, Gill would have been crushed to death by a 1,000 foot drop.

The colt show was another large event, with a large number of really beautiful colts entered in the event. All athletic events were well filled and the contests exceedingly interesting.

Several score of persons from this city attended the big picnic.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The city of Washington is facing a serious problem in conserving their water supply.

The continued dry and hot weather has diminished the Water Company's source of supply and the consumption is over-reaching the supply. The Water Company therefore asks the co-operation of its patrons in the matter of curtailing the needless waste of water, in every way in order that the community shall not suffer thereby. The supply is sufficient for all legitimate uses, and if properly conserved there need be no cause for alarm. Hoping that all loyal citizens will respond to this appeal and feel the necessity of aiding us in preserving the health and welfare of the city, we are,

Yours very truly,

WEATHER FORECAST FOR YEAR

This Will Be Possible if Recent Discoveries Are Verified.

Chicago.—Discoveries which have made it possible to forecast weather conditions accurately for an entire season have been made by Professor Frost of the Yerkes observatory. Such a system, experts say, would be worth an incalculable sum to the agricultural interests, as droughts and wet seasons could be prepared far in advance of their coming.

Professor Frost's discoveries have to do with the radiation of heat from the sun. In making public the results of his investigation he says he has found the radiation to be variable. This, with other discoveries Professor Frost has made, may bring about an entirely new system of forecasting weather conditions and thus robbing heat and cold, drought and flood, of their terrors.

SAVED HIS CABLE TOLLS.

A Clever Ruse at Home Gave Him the Information He Wanted.

A wealthy merchant in Paris who does an extensive business with Japan was informed that a prominent firm in Yokohama had failed, but the name of the firm he could not learn. He could have learned the truth by cabling; but, to save expense, instead he went to a well known banker who had received the news and requested him to reveal the name of the firm.

"That's a very delicate thing to do," replied the banker, "for the news is not official, and if I gave you the name I might incur some responsibility."

The merchant argued, but in vain, and finally he made this proposition: "I will give you," he said, "a list of ten firms in Yokohama, and I will ask you to look through it and then tell me, without mentioning any name, whether or not the name of the firm which has failed appears in it. Surely you will do that for me."

"Yes," said the banker, "for if I do not mention any name I cannot be held responsible in any way."

The list was made. The banker looked through it and as he handed it back to the merchant said, "The name of the merchant who has failed is there."

"Then I've lost heavily," replied the merchant, "for that is the firm with which I did business," showing him a name on the list.

"But how do you know that is the firm which has failed?" asked the banker in surprise.

"Very easily," replied the merchant. "Of the ten names on the list only one is genuine, that of the firm with which I did business. All the others are fictitious."

THE HUMAN FACTORY.

Its Machinery Develops With the Intellect That Directs It.

A human being is a kind of factory. The engine and the works and all the various machines are kept in the basement, and he sends down orders to them from time to time, and they do the work which has been conceived up in headquarters. He expects the works down below to keep on doing these things without his taking any particular notice of them, while he occupies his mind, as the competent head of a factory should, with the things that are new and different and special and that his mind alone can do; the things which, at least in their present initial formative or creative stage, no machines as yet have been developed to do and which can only be worked out by the man up in the headquarters himself, personally, by the handwork of his own thought.

The more a human being develops the more delicate, sensitive, strong and efficient, the more split informed, once for all, the machines in the basement are. As he grows the various subconscious arrangements for discriminating, assimilating, classifying material, for pumping up power, light and heat to headquarters, all of which can be turned on at will, grow more masterful every year. They are found all slaving away for him, dimly, down in the dark while he sleeps. They hand him up in his very dreams new and strange powers to live and to know with.—Gerald Stanley Lee in Atlantic Magazine.

The German Empire.

The German empire was constituted as at present Jan. 1, 1871. After preliminary negotiations during the course of the Franco-Prussian war the parliament of the north German confederation (with which Baden, Hesse-Darmstadt, Bavaria and Wurttemberg had recently allied themselves) in an address dated Dec. 10, 1870, requested King William of Prussia to become German emperor. All the sovereign princes of German states and the three free and Hanseatic towns having joined in offering the imperial crowns, the proclamation of William I. as emperor was made at Versailles Jan. 18, 1871. The first reichstag was opened at Berlin March 25, and the imperial constitution was adopted April 14, 1871.—Philadelphia Press.

Not So Serious.

A doctor who had been summoned hastily alighted from his carriage to find a woman awaiting him on the doorstep, but without the anxious look he expected in the circumstances. "I understand," he said, "that your boy has swallowed a sovereign. Where is he?"

"Oh, sir," was the reply, "I'm glad to tell you we made a mistake! It wasn't a sovereign; it was only a half-penny!"—London Mail.

A Good Excuse.

"Now, then," demanded Luschman's wife the next morning, "what's your excuse for coming home in that condition last night?"

"Well, to tell you the truth, m' dear," he replied, "none of the hotels would take me in."—Philadelphia Press.

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 31.—General Monteagudo, commander in chief of the Cuban army, carefully guarded, is convalescing from what was believed to be a serious illness. When the Cuban military leader arrived here his party consisted of his wife and two sons, secretary, aid-de-camp and several servants. He took to bed at once, and the hotel physician was called to attend him. Encoined in several large suits, the entourage escaped notice, and the physician was the only visitor to his apartments.

OUTFIELDER BURNS HAS MADE A GREAT HIT WITH NEW YORK FANS

New York, July 31.—Outfielder Burns is one of the most popular men who can boast a New York address. For why? Because he is doing a great deal toward bringing another National league pennant to New York. Burns has been in the game regularly for about two months, and he has been in it all the time. He hits like a fiend and any fly batted into the left field never touches the ground if Burns' fast legs can carry him under it. He robs opposing players of three base hits with an easy nonchalance, and he flings the ball back into the diamond like a bullet. Though big and husky, Burns is speedy on the bases, and he does not clog them once he starts on the circuit. His father recently saw him play for the first time in the big league, and Burns covered himself with glory and made his dad smile by tying the score with a home run in the eighth inning and by bringing in the winning run in the twelfth inning with a two base clout.

Pitcher Coombs to Return to Game—National Rowing Meet.

REGATTA ON CHARLES RIVER

Leading Marksmen of the World Coming to the United States For International Shooting Tournament—How Larry Chappelle, New White Sox Star, Broke Into Game.

By TOMMY CLARK.

John W. Coombs, one of the star pitchers of the Philadelphia Athletics, in a letter received at Philadelphia, predicted that he would be in condition to go into the game by Labor day. Coombs is on his farm at West Kennebunk, Me., convalescing, after being ill since the opening of the American league season.

"I am more than encouraged over the way I have gained," Coombs wrote, "and only hope I may be able to help the boys bring another world's pennant to Philadelphia."

Coombs is one of the ablest and gamest pitchers in the major leagues and will prove a big aid to the Athletics in the closing games of the season and in the world's series contests.

With Bender, Plank and Coombs on the hurling line Connie Mack will stand a good chance of corraling another world's championship title.

That the Athletics are winning this year's American league pennant without the aid of Coombs shows how fundamentally strong the team is in all departments.

indicate that the national championship will provide one of the best regattas of recent years, with scullers and crews from all parts of the country competing.

In connection with the annual regatta the forty-second annual convention of the association will be held Aug. 8. Four delegates will be chosen to fill the places of James Pilkington, Harlem Rowing club, New York; Fred H. Fortmeyer, Passaic Boat club, Newark; James Denegre, Minnesota Boat club, St. Paul, Minn., and Henry P. Burke, Malta Boat club, Philadelphia. All four delegates have been nominated to succeed themselves.

The leading marksmen of the world are already heading for the United States in order to participate in the international tournament of shooting at Camp Perry, Ohio, Sept. 1 to 9.

One of the most formidable teams is that which will represent Switzerland. It was at first thought that the entry would have to be canceled, but, monetary difficulties having been overcome, a team of the best Swiss marksmen, under the captaincy of M. Meyer de Stadelhofen, a Geneva lawyer and a splendid shot, will sail for New York in August to take part in the Camp Perry tournament.

It is now in order for stories about how new Larry Chappelle, sold to the Chicago White Sox by Milwaukee for a record price, came to be a member of some team or other.

When Larry was playing semi-pro ball around the St. Louis suburbs he was secured by the Quincy club of the Three I league, but Manager Bude Myers said he wouldn't do. Perhaps he was too young for Bude, for one thing. So Bude turned him adrift and Quincy lost a star. Chappelle then signed with the Eau Claire club of the Minny league, but while still playing ball around the suburbs of the Mound City Charley Stis, then manager of the Peoria team in the Three I league, tried to sign him. Stis watched him play in a game and concluded he had a find.

When he attempted to negotiate with Chappelle, however, the player told him he had already tied up, and so Peoria did not get him. It was from Eau Claire that Milwaukee secured the player.

Bad days with the umpire recall the repartee of Nick Altrock to Umpire Gerald Hayes in a game at Minneapolis three years ago. Nick was batting, and a foul ball hit a girl in the grand stand, breaking her collar bone.

Hayes didn't know what was going on when the crowd swarmed around the girl and asked Nick. "The humorist shot back, 'You called one right and she fainted.'"

Foreign Chess Player After Honors.

O. S. Duran, the Bohemian chess champion, will play in the tournament of the Blue Chess club of New York. In which Chappelaine of Havana and other well known experts have entered.

New Baseball Score Board.

A new kind of automatic score board has been invented. Manikins play the game, throwing, batting and even sliding when such plays occur.

Respected His Scruples.

In the mathematics class one day at Williams college Professor S. who was rarely made the subject of college jests, was excessively annoyed by some man "sneaking" a small rubber bladder. The noise seemed to come from near a certain Jack Hollis, and after querying each of his neighbors and receiving a negative answer Professor S. said sternly:

"Hollis, do you know who is making that unbearable noise?"

Hollis, who had been the guilty person all along, assumed an air of stoical bravery and said calmly, "I know, sir, but I prefer not to tell."

Professor S. angry face grew calmer, and with evident pleasure he replied, "I respect your scruples, Hollis. They do you credit and should shame the guilty man, sir."

Palaces of Thebes.

The palaces of old Thebes, in Egypt, were probably the largest and most wonderful ever erected by the hand of man. One of them was the container of a central hall 80 feet in height, 325 feet in length and 170 feet in breadth, the roof of which was supported by 134 columns 11 feet in diameter and 70 feet in height. The cornices were of the finest marble, inlaid with ivory work and sheathed with beaten gold. From the point of view of artistic beauty, the Parthenon, of course, still holds the palm and is likely always to hold it.—New York American.
